ELIQUENT LIFE SCIENCES' MOTION (I) TO ENFORCE SALE ORDER AND COMPEL TURNOVER AND (II) FOR ALLOWANCE AND IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSE CLAIMS

Eliquent Life Sciences, Inc. ("Eliquent" or the "Purchaser"), by and through its undersigned counsel, hereby files this motion (the "Motion") for entry of an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, pursuant to sections 105(a) and 503(b)(1)(A) of title 11 of the United States Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"), (i) enforcing the Sale Order and APA (each as defined herein) and compelling turnover of $284,644.81 in Eliquent's funds (the "Eliquent Customer Deposits") in accordance therewith, (ii) allowing and directing payment to Eliquent on account of an administrative expense claim in an amount equal to $129,529.48 on account of unreimbursed medical expenses under the Transition Services Agreement (the "Medical Reimbursements" or the "Administrative Claim"), and (iii) granting such other relief as this Court deems to be just, fair and equitable under the circumstances. In support of this Motion, Eliquent respectfully represents as follows:²

² Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the First Amended Combined Disclosure Statement and Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Azzur Group Holdings LLC and its Affiliated Debtors [Docket No. 531] (the "Plan").

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the “Court”) has jurisdiction to consider this Motion under 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334 and the Amended Standing Order of Reference from the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, dated as of February 29, 2012.

2. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue is proper before this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

3. Pursuant to Rule 9013-1(f) of the Local Rules of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Eloquent consents to the entry of a final order by the Court in connection with this Motion to the extent that it is later determined that the Court, absent consent of the parties, cannot enter final orders or judgments consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution.

4. The statutory predicates for the relief requested herein are sections 105(a) and 503(b)(1)(A) of the Bankruptcy Code.

BACKGROUND

5. On March 2, 2025 (the “Petition Date”), the above-captioned debtors and debtors in possession (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code commencing these cases (the “Chapter 11 Cases”).

6. On April 14, 2025, the Court entered the Order (I) Approving and Authorizing the Sale of the Debtors’ Consulting Business and Related Assets, (II) Approving Assumption and Assignment of Certain Executory Contracts, and (III) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 408] (the “Sale Order”).

7. The Sale Order, among other things, approved the Asset Purchase Agreement, dated as of March 2, 2025, as amended by that certain letter agreement, dated as of March 28, 2025

(as further amended, restated, supplemented, or otherwise modified from time to time, the “APA”), by and among certain of the Debtors, as sellers (the “Sellers”), and Eliquent, as purchaser. A copy of the APA is attached to the Sale Order as Exhibit 1.

8. Pursuant to the Sale Order and the APA, Eliquent purchased the Debtors’ properties, rights, interests and assets related to the Debtors’ consulting business in providing regulatory compliance, quality assurance, and other GxP advisory services and training services to the life sciences industry (the “Business” and the sale thereof, the “Sale”). See APA §§ 1.1 and 11.1(n).

9. The Sale included “all Accounts Receivable that are related to the Business” as purchased assets acquired by the Purchaser. Id. § 1.1(b). “Accounts Receivable” is defined in the APA as “accounts receivable, inclusive of unbilled receivables, held by Sellers that primarily relate to the Business, that were acquired or arose from sales actually made or services actually performed in the ordinary course of business of the Business that represent bona fide transactions and valid claims, are not subject to any setoff, counterclaim or action and are enforceable in accordance with their terms” subject to certain exclusions. Id. § 11.1(a).

10. On May 6, 2025, the Debtors and the Purchaser closed on the Sale in accordance with the terms of the Sale Order and APA. See Notice of Closing of the Sale of the Debtors’ Consulting Business and Related Assets to Eliquent Life Sciences, Inc. [Docket No. 529]. Consequently, the Business and the accounts receivables associated therewith became property of the Purchaser. The APA contains a turnover mechanism to the extent the Sellers receive or come into the possession of any payments on accounts receivable or any other Acquired Asset (as defined in the APA) post-closing. Specifically, pursuant to the APA, if any Seller receives “any right, property or asset” after the closing of the Sale that constitutes an Acquired Asset sold to Purchaser, such Seller must transfer such right, property or asset to the Purchaser within five (5) business days of receipt thereof, and such right, property or asset is deemed the Purchaser's property held in trust by the Seller for the Purchaser until so transferred. APA § 6.7(a).

11. Immediately after the close of the Sale, Eloquent provided notice to customers of new bank account information to which the customers should direct payments for Eloquent's services. However, after the closing of the Sale, and notwithstanding notice of the Sale and new account information, certain customers of the Business continued to deposit funds into accounts owned by the Sellers. All such deposits (i.e., the Eloquent Customer Deposits) were misdirected payments either for services rendered by Eloquent after the closing of the Sale or constituted accounts receivable that were sold to Eloquent pursuant to the Sale and APA. Despite requests from Eloquent, the Sellers have not transferred the Eloquent Customer Deposits to Purchaser.

12. Between May 19, 2025 and July 21, 2025, the Sellers made seven (7) transfers of misdirected payments to Eloquent totaling approximately $5.2 million; however, this was $186,347.29 less than the total amount of misdirected payments received by the Sellers during that period. Beginning on July 21, 2025, the Sellers began more regularly transferring certain misdirected payments to the Purchaser on a weekly basis; every Friday, the Sellers would reconcile their accounts and transfer the misdirected funds on the following Monday. However, this process only lasted for a brief period of time, and the Sellers soon stopped remitting the misdirected payments. Additionally, the Sellers never remitted to Eloquent the Eloquent Customer Deposits that were shorted between the Sale closing and the commencement of regular payments in July.

13. Since October 15, 2025, and notwithstanding multiple requests and the turnover requirements set forth in the APA, the Sellers have failed to transfer the Eloquent Customer Deposits to Eloquent. The total amount of Eloquent Customer Deposits held by the Debtors that constitute property of Eliquent as of the date of the filing of this Motion is $284,644.81. Of the Eliquent Customer Deposits, $101,297.52 constitutes misdirected funds received by the Debtors for cash receipts in October and November of 2025 that were not remitted to the Purchaser, and all of these funds relate to services provided by Eliquent to customers post-closing. Additionally, $183,347.29 of the Eliquent Customer Deposits relates to misdirected funds received by the Debtors for cash receipts from the closing of the Sale until the Debtors began transferring funds in July of 2025. Consistent with the APA, the Eliquent Customer Deposits are Eliquent's property being held in trust by the Debtors for Eliquent, and thus not property of the Debtors' estates.

14. Additionally, the APA contemplated, and the Purchaser agreed, to allow the Sellers to be participating employers in the assumed benefits plan and to facilitate the continued participations by Sellers' employees in such plans for a period of three (3) months after the closing of the Sale (the "Transition Services"). APA § 6.4. Eliquent is owed the Medical Reimbursements amount on account of the Transition Services.

15. The Transition Services required the Purchaser to provide to the Sellers an invoice detailing the costs of the Transition Services incurred by the Purchaser. Id. The Sellers were obligated to pre-fund certain of the costs of the Transition Services upon closing of the Sale and, within fifteen (15) days of receipt of an invoice from the Purchaser, the Sellers were obligated to remit payment to the Purchaser for costs incurred by Purchaser in providing the Transition Services. Id. Eliquent provided an invoice to the Sellers on July 24, 2025, for the Medical Reimbursements and has not received payment from the Sellers.

RELIEF REQUESTED

16. By this Motion, Eliquent hereby requests entry of the proposed order attached hereto as Exhibit A (a) enforcing the Sale Order and APA and compelling turnover of the Eliquent Customer Deposits to Eliquent in accordance therewith in the amount of $284,644.81, and (b) allowing and directing payment to Eliquent on account of an administrative expense claim for the Medical Reimbursements in an amount equal to $129,529.48.

BASIS FOR RELIEF

A. The Eliquent Customer Deposits Must be Returned to Eliquent

17. It is well-established that a bankruptcy court has authority to “interpret and enforce its own prior orders.” Travelers Indem. Co. v. Bailey, 129 S. Ct. 2195, 2205 (2009); In re Cont’l Airlines, Inc., 236 B.R. 318, 325 (Bankr. D. Del. 1999). Further, section 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that “the court may issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title” and “tak[e] any action or mak[e] any determination necessary or appropriate to enforce or implement court orders or rules, or to prevent an abuse of process.” 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

18. In the Sale Order, the Court (a) authorized and directed the Debtors to “take any and all actions necessary to fulfill [the Debtors’] objections under, and comply with the terms of, the APA and to consummate the Sale” and (b) expressly retained jurisdiction to, among other things, “interpret, enforce and implement the terms and provisions of this Sale Order and the APA” and various related documents and instruments, including to “compel delivery of the Acquired Assets or the performance of other obligations owed to the Purchaser.” See Sale Order ¶¶ 5 and 25; see also In re Nortel Networks Corp., 445 B.R. 370, 375 (Bankr. D. Del. 2011) (stating that dispute over sale order and purchase agreement “compels the Court to act in its supervisory and enforcement roles under the [purchase agreement]”).

19. The Eliquent Customer Deposits are amounts owed to Eliquent either from their customers for work performed after the closing of the Sale or constituted accounts receivable that were sold to Eliquent pursuant to the Sale and are therefore property of Eliquent that the Debtors are required to turn over to Eliquent under the express provisions of the APA. See APA § 6.7.

20. Even if the Eloquent Customer Deposits were, or would have been, property of the Debtors' estates as of the outset of these chapter 11 cases, the Eloquent Customer Deposits became property of Eloquent upon the closing of the Sale pursuant to the APA and the Sale Order. Section 363(b)(1) provides that "[a]fter notice and a hearing, [the Debtor] may use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate." 11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1). The Purchaser acquired from the Debtors all accounts receivable that are related to the Business, and the Sale Order authorizes and directs the Debtors to take any and all actions necessary to consummate the Sale and fulfill their obligations under the APA. Further, the Sale Order provides that the assets "shall be transferred to the Purchaser, and the Purchaser shall take title to and possession of the Acquired Assets." Sale Order ¶ 9. Consequently, the Eloquent Customer Deposits became property of the Purchaser as of May 6, 2025.

21. The Court should therefore enforce the APA and Sale Order and compel the Debtors to turn over the Eloquent Customer Deposits to Eloquent pursuant to section 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and the applicable provisions of the APA.

B. The Administrative Claim is an Actual, Necessary Cost of Preserving the Estate

22. Section 503(b)(1)(A) provides that "[a]fter notice and a hearing, there shall be allowed administrative expenses, other than claims allowed under section 502(f) of this title, including . . . the actual, necessary costs of preserving the estate." The touchstone of whether a claim is entitled to administrative expense status under section 503(b)(1)(A) is whether a benefit was provided to the debtor's estate post-petition. In re Bluestem Brands, Inc., No. 20-10566 (MFW), 2021 Bankr. LEXIS 1980, at *14 (Bankr. D. Del. July 27, 2021).

23. Determining whether a creditor has an administrative claim is a two-prong test. First, the claimant must show either that the debtor-in-possession incurred the transaction on which the claim is based, or that the claimant furnished the consideration to the debtor-in-possession; second, it must show that the transaction resulted in a direct benefit to the debtor-in-possession. In re Harnischfeger Indus., Inc., 293 B.R. 650, 659 (Bankr. D. Del. 2003); see also In re O'Brien Env'tl. Energy, Inc., 181 F.3d 527, 532-33 (3d Cir. 1999). Under the second prong, the “benefit” provided to the debtor tests whether the particular expense was truly “necessary” to the estate, and it does not have to be substantial to qualify. In re Energy Future Holdings Corp., 990 F.3d 728, 741–42 (3d Cir. 2021).

24. Here, the Administrative Claim has already been given administrative expense status and priority under the Sale Order. Specifically, the Sale Order provides that:

Any amounts payable by the Debtors to the Purchaser pursuant to the APA, the other Transaction Agreements, and any related instrument, document, or agreement shall be allowed administrative claims and entitled to priority as administrative expense claims under sections 503(b) and 507(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code (or if otherwise specified in the Bidding Procedures Order or the APA, such other status and priority as provided therein), and be paid by the Debtors in the time and manner provided for therein (and in the case of the Expense Reimbursement and Break-Up Fee, as provided in the APA and the Bidding Procedures Order) without further order of the Court.

Sale Order ¶ 21.

25. The Administrative Claim arises from the Sale, the APA, and Eliquent’s provision of the Transition Services to the Debtors and, therefore, falls within the scope of paragraph 21 of the Sale Order. Eliquent seeks the relief herein out of an abundance of caution given the administrative expense bar date under the Plan.

26. As evidenced by the above detail and the APA, both prongs of section 503(b)(1)(A) inquiry are satisfied. First, the Sale and the Transition Services were post-petition transactions. Second, the Sale and the Transition Services clearly provided a benefit to the Debtors’ estates: the purchase price under the APA included cash in the aggregate amount equal to $56,000,000, along with the assumption of certain liabilities, and Eliquent provided the Transition Services to the Debtors which directly benefited the Debtors and their estates. Nevertheless, the Debtors have failed to pay Eliquent the outstanding balance of not less than $129,529.48 due and payable on account of the Medical Reimbursements. The Medical Reimbursements are therefore actual, necessary costs and expenses of preserving Debtors' estates within the meaning of section 503(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and paragraph 21 of the Sale Order. In this case, Eliquent meets the standard for an administrative expense claim.

27. Accordingly, Eliquent is entitled to an Administrative Claim in the amount not less than $129,529.48 and the Court should direct the Debtors to pay such amount to Eliquent in full.

NOTICE

28. Notice of this Motion has been given to: (i) counsel for the Debtors; (ii) the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Delaware; (iii) counsel to the Committee; and (iv) any party requesting notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002. In light of the nature of the relief requested herein, Eliquent submits that no other or further notice is necessary.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

29. Eliquent expressly reserves any and all other rights, objections, claims, and/or causes of action it may assert against Debtors, including, without limitation, the right to assert additional claims or administrative expenses against the Debtors and their estates, and to amend, modify, or supplement this request in advance of, or in connection with, any hearing on the Motion.

30. Eliquent expressly reserves any and all rights to submit additional documents or evidence to support its administrative expense claims as required and appropriate.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, Eliquent respectfully requests that the Court enter an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, (a) enforcing the Sale Order and APA and compelling the Debtors to turn over to Eliquent the Eliquent Customer Deposits in the amount of $284,644.81 in accordance therewith, and (b) allowing and directing payment to Eliquent on account of an administrative expense claim for the Medical Reimbursements in an amount equal to $129,529.48.
